

ZOOMSERIES

Join Lucille Sider, a retired clinical psychologist and clergywoman, in a Zoom class that will chronicle her experiences told through her memoir, "Light Shines in the Darkness." During the sessions, Lucille will facilitate discussions about topics such as the relationships between sexual abuse and mental illness, ways of healing from sexual abuse and considering forgiveness. Participants will also be encouraged to share experiences and insight if they wish to.

TIME

Second Tuesday of each month, starting on September 14 at 7 pm (CST) and 8 pm (EST) for an hour and fifteen minutes over a six-month period.

LOCATION

Lucille's son, Soren Dayton, will act as the Zoom master for the class.

If you wish to enroll contact him at soren.dayton@gmail.com and Lucille at lucille.sider@gmail.com.

FORMAT

In each session, Lucille will give a presentation, followed by interaction from the class. Participants are welcome to participate in the discussions, but are not expected to do so.

In the first class, she will summarize the book and discuss how her experiences in the book have shaped her life since.

If you want to purchase the book, click here or contact Lucille directly at her email address above.

"It is just part of my calling and ministry to help people understand sexual abuse and depression and hopefully, bring some healing for those in need."