Note to Users:

This Index is different from the Movies Review Index on the VP Home Page. The Cumulative Index includes everything published in the 224 issues of Visual Parables from the first 1990 issue up to May 2014. Check out such categories as Discussion Guides or Articles to see the many extras available to subscribers in the journal--extras such as reviews of short films useful for church school classes or descriptions of film series for the Church Year and special holidays such as MLK Day. Although the site includes only the past few years from VP's 24-year history, most of the early issues are still available in print form, so contact the editor about any item in an issue before 2006.

Visual Parables Cumulative Index

February 1990 through March 2014

This Index includes all films reviewed in VP since its first issue appeared in February 1990 through March 2014. The Index will be updated at the end of each year. To allow room for expansion a number of columns have been left blank. Although VP's website www.visualparables.org includes a Film Index, this covers just the reviews posted during the last few years. This Cumulative Index includes articles and other features, as well as hundreds of reviews that have not been posted as single reviews. Note that just the last 2 digits of the year of publication are given. To save time & space the page numbers are not given: consult the issue's table of contents for this,

The films are divided into the following categories: Theatrical; Documentary; Short Films.; Cable/TV; and YouTube. Other categories include: Film Guides; Praying the Movies; Preaching the Movies; Articles; Book Reviews; Interviews; and (some of) the Sweet Resources columns. Indexing Lectionary Links proved to be too complicated, so at a later time I will deal with it, possibly as a special CD book that includes searchable lists of the films and Scripture passages.

The website's Index is useful for finding film reviews for the past 9 or 10 years, but not for articles or special features, hence this Cumulative Index. Your VP subscription gives you access to issues dating back to the Summer of 2006. For issues before then we have for sale printed copies (and in some cases DVDs formatted in pdf) of the majority of issues, indeed every issue from 1990 through 1993 is available in print form. A price and availability list can be obtained by contacting the editor at myparables2@gmail.com.

I have spent hours trying to find irregularities of spelling and other errors: if you find errors, please report them so that I can make the correction. We plan to update this edition at the end of the year.
